

Doreen's one-tone brown hair was shoulder-length with very little shape or style. Stylist Lynda Salgado of Salon 56 in San Diego, California applied a longer layered cut to add interest to Doreen's fine, wavy hair and then added a rich, dark warm brown base with fine slices of red mahogany and blonde running through.

A dime-size amount of Moroccan oil was worked through her damp hair. Next a quarter-size amount of ENJOY Volumizing Mousse was applied at the root for lift and a dime-size amount of Straightener was layered on for control. A round brush was used while blow-drying to add volume on top, rolling sections under while pulling up at the root. Lower sections were rolled up to create a flip at the ends. Once dry, a dime-size amount of TIGI Bedhead Afterparty styling cream was worked through mostly on the ends. Big Sexy Hair Spray & Play was then misted over the surface to provide firm, long-lasting hold. Makeup: Jaime Queenin
